Nature of Complaint
Just this week, a wood processing facility popped up by my home. It's located just beyond the strawberry patch at the NE corner of Clark and Pentz. They're going full-bore and they aren't applying any water. The dust is terrible, a combo of the dirt and wood dust from the processing. I don't mind that they're there; I know there's a lot of work to be done, but there's another one on Pentz and they apply water - this operation should be watering, too, to keep the dust knocked down/wash off the trees before processing, and they aren't.

S. Ertle @ 13:43; I arrived at the logging and stockpiling yard on the NE corner of Clark and Durham Pentz Road and met with Foreman Nick Stacher. I explained to Mr. Stacher that we had received a complaint about fugitive dust from equipment operations on the site. I provided Mr. Stacher a copy of District Rule 205 - Fugitive Dust, and went over the best practices control requirements in the Rule and the trackout control requirements. The facility will be stockpiling logs from the campfire until they can be shipped for processing at lumber mills. They have intermittent busy periods. They are expecting 18 trucks to be delivering material on Friday May 10. Each truck makes two to three trips per day. The facility was processing delivered logs during my visit. They were applying water to the previously stacked logs. I did not observe any fugitive emission of any type on the site however they do not have any trackout control at the exit of the yard. I spoke with Mr. Stacher about adding an effective trackout control to prevent future issues and comply with Rule 205. Mr. Stacher works for Frank Maqueros, Owner, AAA Tree Service (Big Bear CA 530-584-8645). Mr. Stacher also provided me the owner's cell phone number.

Updated report
S. Ertle @ 08:00; Frank Maqueros called me back to discuss my message. He confirmed that he received my call and asked about trackout and fugitive dust control. I explained the trackout control requirements and options for preventing trackout and end of day cleanup requirements. He said he plans to add a separate entrance to the site (currently trucks enter and exit from the same location). I explained the importance of preventing trackout and airborne particulate from leaving the site. I explained that we are available to provide support to ensure compliance and what constitutes noncompliance of Rule 205. He thanked me for reaching out to make sure he was aware of the requirements.

Responsible Party Corrective Action Taken

Watering - Need to add better trackout control

AQMD Follow-up Required:
